Definitions

FATCA is an abbreviation of Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, a piece of US tax legislation enacted in March 2010. Australia and the US have signed an agreement with the aim of improving compliance with international tax rules and the implementation of FATCA. Obligations arising from the agreement in Finland are threefold: 1) Financial institutions have an obligation to identify financial accounts held by US persons 2) Financial institutions have an obligation to provide the Tax Administration information on the identified financial accounts, and 3) The Tax Administration has the obligation to convey the information to the US tax authorities. Additional information on CRS can be found at: www.irs.gov/fatca

CRS is the Common Reporting Standard issued by the OECD, under which the countries that have concluded Competent Authority Agreements must exchange financial account information and information concerning certain account holders between jurisdictions. CRS requires financial institutions to identify customers with a tax residence in another state and report information concerning their financial accounts to local tax authorities. Thus if a Nordea customer is a tax resident outside Finland, Nordea has the obligation to convey the information provided on this form as well as annual reports concerning the customer’s accounts/products to the Finnish Tax Administration. The Tax Administration, in turn, shall convey the information to the tax authorities of other CRS countries. Additional information on CRS can be found at: <http://www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/about-automatic-exchange/>
